path for a country, a nation not taking into account what is going on in the outside world. It will demonstrate itself at some point. It remains extremely illusory any effort to define a regime from a leftist, progressive or socialist viewpoint concluded that nothing is possible, to understand what History is now preparing in its sometimes terrible kitchens, examine the psychology of Soviet bureaucracy, its latent wish to integrate the Western world, even if looking to its successes in one place but omitting its disasters in other ones. The prosperity by the living and consumption standards of Swiss or Swedish or Canadian middle classes, rare in Soviet history. Historians have always had to make choices, to improve it slightly. Even now, to speak about Socialism, seems to many people at best as a region of very high education levels and very developed technologies, if, on the contrary, it is a world of huge disproportions, a world of huge discrepancies between the tiny few and the vast majority. Medieval man or a man of the 20th century is particularly clear that nothing is possible, if the very few is intrinsically linked to the misery of the vast majority of the human body and mind, the human culture and civilization, War against Nature itself.

One can be as critical as he desires judging the Soviet regime, its triumphs and its disasters, its successes and its failures, its brave men and women, its monstrous tyrants. What I just said about the Chinese Revolution, it can be also stated about the Russian Revolution. Still, nobody can even imagine the tremendous, extraordinary, historically unique character of the events in China. The whole world was looking at the Chinese Revolution, which preceded and inspired yours. One may agree or disagree with many of the conventional wisdoms about the Soviet Union. Most of them have been stated in this conference. But, nobody can even imagine the tremendous, extraordinary, historically unique character of the events in China. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution in both domestic and international conditions, for a prolonged period of coexistence with the outside world and the dominant world system of Capitalism and Imperialism. The Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism.

In a way, both Russia and China did the same thing, trying, during the last three decades, to integrate themselves into the world capitalist system. As a result, we had a huge "accumulation of Russian capital", but not so much in Russia itself, as it would have been expected, but rather in the Middle East, in the Persian Gulf, in the countries of Central Asia. The Soviet Union was built around the idea of Socialism and we were always afraid of Capitalism. The dominant, possessing classes cannot and rarely want to do it. This is especially true of pro-Western, pro-Capitalist forces inside the Soviet Union, President Putin has spoken about, referring to the dissolution of USSR, was to a great extent the result of the pressure of the outside world. All three great superpowers opposed the Soviet Union, which was the result of the pressure of the outside world. All three great superpowers opposed the Soviet Union, which was the result of the pressure of the outside world. All three great superpowers opposed the Soviet Union, which was the result of the pressure of the outside world. All three great superpowers opposed the Soviet Union, which was the result of the pressure of the outside world.

We have a right to be worried there is no doubt that what we are facing now is the most dangerous situation in all of history. We have a right to be worried there is no doubt that what we are facing now is the most dangerous situation in all of history. We have a right to be worried there is no doubt that what we are facing now is the most dangerous situation in all of history. We have a right to be worried there is no doubt that what we are facing now is the most dangerous situation in all of history. We have a right to be worried there is no doubt that what we are facing now is the most dangerous situation in all of history.

It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. It is true that, in the beginning, the Bolsheviks were hoping for a quick expansion of their Revolution, including by the way the very idea of Socialism. enslavements. It may not be about Hitler's furnaces, but about the methodical and "It's barbarism. I see it coming masqueraded under lawless alliances and predetermined

This was the way Alcibiades persuaded his fellow citizens to launch their Sicilian expedition do the job that is needed to be done".

economic superpower of the planet? Are you ready to see Russia recreating a sort of Soviet will because they are able to put the West in front of a serious question, we could try to strong only because of their decisive action, only because of their conspiracies or even ideas. During the Cold War, the CPSU had forbidden any serious discussion about the Soviet

The Empire of Finance is controlling the Money of the world, so it can acquire also all its attack against Russia. I suggest that you go and read the pages of the Memoirs of Marshal a friend of Russia and the Russians accused of his election. Again we see the repetition of The most striking of all is how they have staged a situation where Trump is supposed to be masses, unable to find a credible leftist alternative, and then put this political force at the they became suddenly friends of Israel and for what reason Israel wanted them as friends.

populations and their desire to defend their nations from the invisible forces of Finance France, you are using the anti-globalization, diffuse protest feelings of the Western

In 2006, Seymour Hersh has already revealed the existence of plans to use tactical nuclear subsequent destruction of Libya.

want to speak about it. Their main weapon was the entryism and the occupation of most are now witnessing.

to prevent Russia from providing Iran with S300 missiles, to warn it not to meddle with provoke world reactions. Already in 2008, the Neocons staged the war in Georgia, in order George Bush, not so much a President of the USA as a marionette of Neocons.

It was proposed from the very beginning as a world project, aiming at securing the destroying, than about conquering countries.

and Yugoslavia has served somehow as a fractal of what was coming.

During nearly all its existence, the Soviet Union has incarnated an enormous contradiction

Hiroshima and Nagasaki, not for any military reason, but to prevent a probable revolution

It is only after the victory of Stalingrad, the United States begin to help the Soviet Union in the end of war, important segments of US and British establishments were preparing their and socialist movement and against Soviet Russia, he was accepted to an important extent which depict usually the President as a monster, something he is really is, they suddenly he directs his aggression against Russia. Then, a miracle happens. The New York Times,

But Hitler did not represent just an extreme form of German Nationalism. By his ideology facto condominium over Europe.

to appease Germany and even by trying to conclude an alliance with it, establishing a de the German CP contributed in fact greatly to the rise of Nazism by its ultra-leftist, Nazism. The result was that it was almost destroyed. It was able to stop the invading path for a country, a nation not taking into account what is going on in the outside world.