THE SIXTH SOUTH SOUTH FORUM ON SUSTAINABILITY ECOLOGY, LIVELIHOOD, AND COMMUNITY REGENERATION

The First South South Forum on Sustainability (SSFS) was organized by Lingnan University and Global University for Sustainability in December 2011, with over 10 co-organizing universities or institutions from Hong Kong, mainland China, and overseas. Most overseas participants joined four exchange visits to rural and urban areas in mainland China. The Second SSFS was held in Chongqing in December 2012. Since the Third SSFS in 2016, the Forum has become an annual event in early summer in Lingnan University. All proceedings of the Forums were video-recorded and uploaded to the websites of Lingnan University and Global University for Sustainability:

<https://commons.ln.edu.hk/southsouthforum/>

<https://our-global-u.org/oguorg/en/conference/>

This year, the Sixth SSFS focuses on the theme of “Ecology, Livelihood, and Community Regeneration”. As a continuation of the debates of previous forums on reviewing critical situations and exploring alternatives, the Sixth SSFS aims to examine the current state of affairs – nuclear weapons proliferation, nuclear power plant catastrophes, climate change, weather extremities, environmental pollution, food and fresh water shortages, US geopolitical and currency domination, the energy issue which lies behind US aggression against Venezuela and Iran, the USA-China trade conflict... Taking note of the consequences and effects on nature and on peoples especially those from the global south, the Forum has brought together prominent feminists, academic scholars, peace activists, community workers, food producers, and rural regeneration promoters to review, articulate and debate theories and practices in transformative and collective actions called forth by the crisis of capitalism affecting the ecological, the social, the political, and the economic. Drawing upon experiences of community governance in Asia and Latin America, the Forum is a platform for dialogues and exchanges among grassroots and resistance practices in the production, dissemination and use of knowledge as instruments of problematization and self-organization, as well as interactions among thinkers in search of paradigms for peace and justice. The Forum is particularly honoured with the presence of Dr Rebecca Johnson, Founding Co-chair of ICAN, the 2017 Nobel Peace Prize laureate.

The Sixth SSFS is composed of :

- (1) June 24-26 : Summer School on Nuclear Weapons and Power:
Current Challenges and Responses
- (2) June 28-30 : Forum on Ecology, Livelihood, and Community Regeneration
- (3) July 1-2 : Workshop on Architecture and Urbanism
- (4) July 1 & 3 : E-Lectures by three speakers

Simultaneous interpreting between English and Putonghua is provided. Live-streaming for a global audience is also available. For the Reader, Participants List, and other details, please see <https://our-global-u.org/oguorg/en/sixth-south-south-forum-on-sustainability-ssfs6/>

Acknowledgements 鳴謝

The commitment and support of the many co-organizers in intellectual input and logistics have made SSFS6 possible. The Department of Cultural Studies of Lingnan University has consistently provided funding support for the South South Forums. For SSFS6, financial support also came from the Conference Organizing Grant of Lingnan University, and Partnerships for Community Development. Many individuals, named or anonymous, have invested time and money in helping the project along. The efforts and enthusiasms demonstrated in this mutual support and open interaction speak for themselves as witness to a process of the actualization of the common.

感謝多個協辦團體共同進行思想探索和組織運營；嶺南大學文化研究系對每一屆南南論壇提供資金資助；嶺南大學會議組織資金對本屆論壇支持；社區伙伴支持國內參與者的部分經費；團隊成員作出默默的、慷慨的心力和金錢的貢獻。這些恰恰是共建開放互動體的寫照。衷心感謝大家！
